Internal note recorded by Arjun Patel. An inbound shipment from Panasonic arrived containing approximately 354 units of LED Television.

During unloading operations the warehouse crew noticed some cartons showing compression marks near the edges. Initial inspection suggests that a few boxes may have been stacked incorrectly during transit by Swift Logistics.

Inventory system indicated available bin space in aisle C but actual shelf capacity appeared lower because earlier pallets were not updated in the system. A temporary adjustment was made by shifting stock to aisle B7. Warehouse scanner logs also show intermittent barcode reading failures. Some staff members had to manually enter SKU numbers.

Dispatch operations continued in parallel for several retail partners including online marketplace orders. However a stock reconciliation check later in the afternoon indicated that system inventory for LED Television showed higher quantities than physically counted. Investigation initiated by operations analyst.

Transport update: delay approx 18 hrs due to highway diversion and heavy traffic conditions. need recount.

Follow up action: quality inspection pending inventory recount scheduled vendor notification if damage confirmed

Electronics arrived containing approximately 69 units of Microwave Oven. During unloading operations the warehouse crew noticed some cartons showing compression marks near the edges. Initial inspection suggests that a few boxes may have been stacked incorrectly during transit by SafeMove Transport.

Inventory system indicated available bin space in aisle C but actual shelf capacity appeared lower because earlier pallets were not updated in the system. A temporary adjustment was made by shifting stock to aisle B7. Warehouse scanner logs also show intermittent barcode reading failures. Some staff members had to manually enter SKU numbers.

Dispatch operations continued in parallel for several retail partners including online marketplace orders. However a stock reconciliation check later in the afternoon indicated that system inventory for Microwave Oven showed higher quantities than physically counted. Investigation initiated by operations analyst.

Transport update: delay approx 18 hrs due to highway diversion and heavy traffic conditions. pls chk asap.

Follow up action: quality inspection pending inventory recount scheduled vendor notification if damage confirmed
